READERS

A big thank you goes out to Ardath H. and Marti G. for their service as Readers.

Welcome our new Readers starting this month, 1st Reader Claire F., 2nd Reader Andy B. Thanks to both of you for your willingness to serve.

Reading Room

Susan P.

If you are a regular reader of the Christian Science periodicals and you purchase them individually, you would spend $4.00 for each Sentinel (at least 4 per month), $11.00 for a Journal, and $12.50 for a full text Bible Lesson. JSH online is $24.00 per month if you buy a 3-month access card from the Reading Room ($72.00 total). Do the math. Additionally, you have access to all past periodicals including Heralds, a plethora of past pamphlets, audio chats past and present, JSH Web Radio and The Christian Science Monitor Daily Briefing.

If you don't already subscribe, consider a trial run with a 3-month access card. It also makes a wonderful gift.

Also, know that the Reading Room has full access to JSH Online including permission to reproduce (which Individual Subscriptions do not have).

As always, consider taking advantage of the Reading Room's peaceful, healing atmosphere and our burgeoning garden!

Illinois Institutional Committee

April 17 - 20 in Washington DC, the National Council of Churches (NCC) will hold its yearly Educational Advocacy Days (EAD). This year's topic:

Breaking the Chains: Mass Incarceration and Systems of Exploitation.

Christians from around the country will gather to learn, pray and lobby for reform in our criminal justice system. Christian Scientists from 15 states will be attending, with Brian T., CSB, a member of the committee that has planned this gathering.

Illinois' State Institutional Committee will be represented at this Conference by Claire F. and Cheryl B.
